Heat Grips Mid-West

7 Prostrated; Many Drown As Thousands Flock To Beaches

By UNITED PRESS

One-hundred degree heat spread death, suffering and drought across Central and Eastern United States today.

Official thermometers steamed up to as high as 110 degrees. Seven persons were dead from heat prostration. Frequent drownings were reported from the beaches where hundreds of thousands sought relief.

"Fair and warmer" was the government forecast for today and tomorrow.

The heat descended from the northwest. The plains states as far west as the Rockies and south to Texas shimmered under cloudless skies. Millions in the populous Great Lakes and Missouri and Ohio Valley regions sweltered in the humid heat. Even New York City and Boston felt its worst effects.

Only a few localities favored by thunderstorms escaped.

Only relief in sight the next two (Turn to Page 3)

New Station In Lake Valley

Forest Service Has Site West Of Motor Vehicle Quarters

Eldorado Forest has plans to erect a new ranger station in Lake Valley during the present season, it was learned this week.

The new headquarters will be at Meyers Station, as is the present headquarters, and will be on the left side of the highway as one proceeds toward the lake on property adjoining the quarters used in recent years by the Department of Motor Vehicles as a checking station for out-of-state cars.

The establishment will include a five-room house and a garage and warehouse, and may possibly include barracks for a fire suppression crew.

The new plant, it is understood, is required in order to keep pace with the rapid growth of the region at the south end of the lake and on the Echo Summit where special use permits for summer homes and other recreational purposes show continued gains.

Ranger Raleigh Bryan has been in charge of the Lake Valley district for many years.

COUNTY PIONEER MARKS 84th BIRTHDAY

SACRAMENTO—In cozy little Corydon, Indiana, there was excitement that August day in 1854. The Bences were leaving, and the Corydon Democrat had a new publisher.

Robert L. Bence, who is spryly 84 today, doesn't remember all the fuss of heading toward a land ablaze with adventure and gold.

He was eight months old when the family started the rough steamer voyage around the Horn to California; he was 14 months old when the boat scraped against the dock at Sacramento.

Memories begin in 1861. He saw great flames devour Chicago in '71; witnessed 11 hangings at Coloma and Hangtown (Placerville), often the work of militant vigilantes; and he was one of the first persons to cross Golden Gate bridge just recently.

Bence lives with his wife, who is 81 years of age, and a daughter, Mrs. T. J. Hatley, at 1710 10th street. A radio personality is his son, Bob Bence, chief announcer of KFRG, San Francisco.

Other children are Mrs. Rudolph Pierce of San Francisco, and William Bence of Sacramento.

Creed Secretary Of Credit Body

The Retail Credit Association this week announced the appointment of Eugene Creed, city police judge, to be secretary of the association, succeeding Sadie Mathes, resigned. The appointment is effective as of July 1st.

Parlor To Observe 50th Anniversary

Members of Marguerite Parlor No. 12, N. D. G. W., are preparing to celebrate the parlor's golden anniversary on the evening of July 28.

Officers of the Grand Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, and officers of the Grand Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West, as well as members and officers of Placerville Parlor No. 9, N. S. G. W., are being invited to join in the observance.

The meeting will pay special compliment to the charter members of Marguerite Parlor and will be marked by a joint installation of officers of Marguerite Parlor and Placerville Parlor.

Doings of the evening will begin with a banquet at 6:30 o'clock at Hotel Raffles.

LEGION SEATS NEW HEADS

Post Voted $49.75 To Community Hall Project Fund

Regular installation of officers of El Dorado Post No. 119, American Legion, was the principal order of business at Wednesday night's meeting of the post.

In addition, the post voted $49.75 in addition to the amount already given, to the Junior Community Hall fund at the request of Dr. L. J. Anderson, chairman of the hall committee.

"Doc" charges that the post voted $49.75 expecting him to "put up the other two bits," but he avers that "those boys are crazy if they think I won't get that two bits out of the canned fund."

Installation was conducted by George E. Faugsted, second vice-commander of the district, assisted by Anderson as marshal.

The new officers are Earl Chesmore, commander; William Liddicoat, first vice-commander; Arnold Weber, second vice-commander; Mrs. Catherine Demuth, third vice-commander; A. C. Maurer, adjutant; F. E. Dean, finance officer; Joe Miller, sergeant-at-arms; and Past Commander Willard Wilkinson, M. E. Raber, Harold Morehouse and A. N. Weber as members of the executive committee.

Supervisors In July Meeting

Convene As Board Of Equalization Until July 19

The regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors for July convened on Tuesday at the courthouse, Monday being a holiday.

Among business of the board as disclosed in the official minutes was the following:

The sheriff is authorized to purchase an automatic electric water heater for the county jail.

The Board will sit as a Board of Equalization from the first Monday in July until the third Monday, July 19.

The bid of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company to supply power to the Diamond Springs street lighting district for one year beginning July 1, 1937, is rejected and the clerk is authorized to re-advertise for such service, bids to be opened by the Board at 2 o'clock on August 3.

Bonus Drive Nears End

3rd Period Closes Saturday Night; One Week Remains

The big extension points in the Democrat and Republican Bonus Check campaign will end Saturday evening, July 10th, at 9 o'clock, when the Third and last extension Period of the campaign closes. All workers who realize the importance of these extension points will certainly go after all the extension subscriptions they can possibly obtain between now and 9 o'clock Saturday night. The positions of the first few workers are very close — in some instances it is only a case of a few subscriptions.

Time is speeding — the Third Period of the campaign has only a few hours to go before it become history. Then comes the last and final week of the campaign, the sealed Ballot Box week, with the smallest point schedule of the campaign in effect. The entire campaign comes to a close July 17th. The workers who have compiled the highest number of points in five respective positions will at that time receive (Continued on page 3)

Placerville Native Recent Visitor

Making her first visit to Placerville in 54 years, Mrs. Bessie Hamlin Brotherton and son, I. N. Brotherton, of Oakland, were in Placerville for the week-end and called at this office on Saturday.

Mrs. Brotherton is a daughter of O. E. Hamlin, an early-day builder in Placerville, and makes her home at Alameda.

She left Placerville in 1883, going out by stage, since that was before the railroad days, and had not visited here since.

Needless to say, she was much interested in the many changes and found no end of pleasure in locating old sites and recalling childhood days.

Fred Gee, Sr., Home From England

Making a visit to the England he knew 43 years ago, Fred Gee, Sr., has returned to his home in Alameda.

Fred Gee, Jr., Reno fire hazard expert, was in Placerville Wednesday and reported his father's return from England last week-end. The younger Mr. Gee was accompanied to Placerville by Percy Alderson, whose many lifelong friends were glad to see him again.

The elder Mr. Gee, according to the son, found many changes in the old country. He brought home with him a number of coins of various denominations, especially minted for the recent coronation.

Psst! Look At Your Family Tree, It May Hide A King

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — Chances are that you, and you—and you have an honest to goodness king in a purple robe and golden crown perched in your family tree, and don't know it.

Maybe you don't even care, but William B. (for Boone) Douglass thinks this information would put a new gleam in your eye (and possibly a monocle) and perhaps change your whole outlook on life.

He ought to know, because he is the president of the American Order of Pioneers, in convention assembled here to do honor to some other folks (besides yourself) of royal ancestry.

Douglass, who is a lawyer and who doesn't wear a coonskin cap, is a direct descendant of Daniel Boone. So are most of the 150 conventioning pioneers and so, apparently, are scads of other people.

Douglass has been studying family trees these many years and he has discovered, for instance, that more than one-third of all United States Presidents are of royal descent.

George Washington had a British king for a forefather (it's a good thing he didn't know it; it might have made him angrier than he was). Abraham Lincoln also had royal blood. So did Theodore Roosevelt. And so does F. D. R., according to the genealogical studies made of him.

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK (UP)—I put on my nicest rompers today, prettied up my red curls, bought myself a big ice cream cone, and went out to interview Al Jolson.

I knocked on his hotel door and to the answering "Who's that?" I said:

"Sonny boy McLemore."

"Come on in here, sonny boy, and climb up on my knee," the Mammy singer said. "But you can't stay long, because I got to get out to Empire City. The beetles are running hot for me."

The old Mammy shouter must have noticed the look of bewilderment in my eyes.

"Empire City is a hoss track, sonny boy," he explained. "And your old black-faced pappy here is a hoss-playing fool. If you weren't too little to read, you could get yourself a copy of the racing form and see where a thing called Totem Pole came popping down in front yesterday at 6 to 1. He's my horse, sonny boy, and I came all the way from Califony" to see him run. And I had a chunk riding right with him."

"Got any more like that?" I asked, brushing a curl out of my face.

"Got any dough, sonny boy?"

"A little," I said, fingering the dimes I had saved up for a new bow.

"Well, lemme have it, and I'll play it with a big man with a state, on a hoss called Forty Winks. And if you've been a good boy that Forty Winks will fix things so you can get a bow and arrow, a bicycle, a catcher's mitt, a cowboy suit, and a whole bucket of ice cream."

"What'll that Forty Winks pay?" I asked. "He's a chalk horse. If I'm not wrong, and won't pay better'n even money. Lay mine on Velvet Mask."

Sonny boy, Jolson said sternly, "You have up and grown up. Get off my knee, and let me tell you about my prize fighter."

So I clambered down and Jolson started on his favorite subject—a little Negro featherweight named Henry Armstrong. Jolson owns his contract, and just before I arrived the Mammy singer had called up Lou Ambers, the lightweight champion of the world, and offered him $35,000 to defend his title against Armstrong in either New York or Los Angeles in September.

"There isn't a fighter under 135 pounds in the world who can stay in there with him," Jolson said. "He's too busy and too tough for them. And what a good little guy. Married to a preacher's daughter, and wouldn't know what beer tasted like. Somewhere, somehow, he's picked up a pretty fair education. Durn if I know where he found the time to learn. He came to Los Angeles a few years ago and was a shoe shiner. Then he started fighting, and one night I saw him lick Baby Arizmendi. I went right in and bought his contract for five grand from Wirt Ross. I still own him. Every penny of him. And I never took a penny of my cut. He gets it all, except a small per cent to Eddie Meade for managing him."

Many of the workers who reported Wednesday night have expressed new determination to put forth their every effort during the last few remaining hours of this all important Third Period.

As was originally announced the campaign will be brought to a close under a sealed ballot box system, during the last and final week. Instead of the workers turning in their subscriptions and money to the campaign department, they will put them in the sealed ballot box. ## Meyers Station Nine Loses

Nevada Prisoners Prove Too Tough In July 4 Game

The Nevada State Prison nine proved too tough for the Meyers Station Wildcats, and defeated the El Dorado County team in a Fourth of July game at the prison by a 6-2 score.

T. Russell, on the mound for the home nine, was stingy with his hits, allowing the Meyers team but seven scattered bingles, two of them being doubles, by Siem, Auburn Cubs receiver who was doing the catching for the Wildcats.

Seymour, on the hill for the mountain nine, hurled a good brand of ball, but two errors, by Scossa in rightfield left two unearned runs across the plate. Seymour was touched for eleven hits.

"Sully" Goodrich, high school youth, held down first base for the Wildcats, and with Siem, led the team in hitting.

The Meyers nine again journey to Carson City for a return game on July 25th.

World Tongue Is Sought

Common Language Declared Basis Of Real Peace

LONDON (UP)—"Nothing will make more for world peace than a common language—a tongue that will enable ordinary folk of all nations to fraternize with one another."

This assertion is made by Sir Benjamin Drage, business chief and technical adviser, who has launched a campaign calling on the League of Nations to sponsor a universal language.

"Daily we are physically brought nearer our fellow-men," he said, "but the mental distance continues. A common language will bring the world closer, mentally and morally. I am appealing to the statesmen of the league to give this proposal their grave consideration."

Sir Benjamin said that the medium for a universal language was a matter of indifference to him. It might be Esperanto, Ido, Basic English or an entirely new language created by experts appointed by the league.

Whatever medium was chosen, the universal language would have to be taught compulsorily in all schools of the 52 league countries. Newspapers would be asked to print columns or sections in the universal language. Soon all countries, whether in the league or not, would be bound, from commercial interests alone, to adopt it.

"At present language is a bar to mutual understanding," he declared. "The curse of Babel is upon us yet. The solution lies in a common tongue."

Music Antidote For Crime

BOSTON (UP)—Music is an effective antidote for juvenile crime, says William A. Wetzel, former principal of the Trenton, N. J., high school.

"Boys who can play musical instruments seldom come into juvenile court," he says. "Music of any and all types, as long as it is good music, well directed and seriously pursued, is one of the best corrective features in an institutional program."

MONROE, Wis. (UP)—Dr. Roub has been the only veterinarian in Green County for more than 90 years. Dr. J. F. Roub, 80, who retired 10 years ago, said his father was the first man qualified as a "horse doctor" in the county. Dr. J. A. Roub of the third generation now is practicing.

HIGH FLIER—Lieutenant M. J. Adam of the British Royal Air Force, who ascended 53,937 feet—more than 10 miles—in an official test over Farnborough airfield. His flight recaptured for Britain the heavier-than-air altitude record, exceeding by 2,575 feet the height reached recently by Lieut. Colonel Mario Pezzi of Italy.

TREAT SHEEP NOW FOR INTERNAL PARASITES

The Farm Advisor this week released the following bulletin on the control of parasites in sheep:

Many sheep that apparently have sufficient feed lose weight rapidly after the range commences to dry. In many cases the wool slips off before shearing time and difficulties are encountered in breeding and lambing. This may be due to lack of proper balance in feeds and minerals but in many cases is due to an infestation of internal parasites, such as stomach worms, round worms, tape worms, liver flukes, etc.

Where sheep are ranged in the same pasture year after year these parasites tend to build up in numbers and the sheep become more severely affected than where pastures are changed during parts of the year. Many of these internal parasites are very small and hard to find. They are on the inside of the stomach and the intestines. Not only do they utilize the digested foods, but they set up irritations in the lining of the intestines and stomach preventing the normal absorption of the digested foods.

In the opinion of Dr. Roy Mills, veterinarian of the state department of agriculture, practically 100 per cent of the farm flocks of sheep that remain on the same pasture throughout the year are more or less severely infested with these parasites.

There have been only a few cases of liver fluke in El Dorado County. These have occurred when marshy land was in the pasture. Treating of the marshy land and water courses in the pasture with copper sulphate will usually kill the snails that act as hosts to the young flukes during a certain period of their life cycle. Without these snails the liver fluke cannot exist.

Where tape worms are present the use of a copper sulphate and nicotine solution given to the sheep as a drench tends to keep this parasite under control. For the other forms of internal parasites Nema capsules are usually effective.

Authorities consider the late spring and early summer as the best time to treat sheep for internal parasites. The parasites that are expelled from the sheep are more apt to be killed by the hot sun. In addition, after the sheep have been rid of the internal parasites they are able to maintain better flesh on the poorer grade of feed that is usually available on the dry ranges in the summer and fall.

The Farm Advisor will be glad to consult with anyone interested in sheep management.
